Last week Council hosted the Burnie Chamber of Commerce and Industry and about 30 representatives from local businesses. This was a great session with guest speaker Rob Sadler from Flowerdale Flowers. It is pleasing to see hear about such exciting business activities in our municipal area and I look forward to having the chamber and its members return sometime soon.

Works have now been completed on the public toilets at the Cam River Reserve at Somerset. Firstly thanks to the public for their patience while these works were complete, but also thanks to those involved in upgrading this important Council facility. The toilets have been rejuvenated with disability access, new LED lighting, vandal proof fittings, stainless steel lining, Armacoat hard wearing epoxy flooring, exposed aggregate concrete surrounds, new bollards, improved landscaping, and a disabled car parking bay.

Moral Fairground and Australian Ethical would like to invite fair-trade, ethical, sustainable businesses in the Waratah-Wynyard Council municipal area to participate in the National Ethical Enterprise Award 2015. This award recognises Australia’s most inspirational ethical enterprise – a business or organisation which has achieved a positive social and economic impact in a local or overseas community through their innovative and ethical trade practices. For more information please visit: http://moralfairground.com.au/ethical-enterprise-award-2015. Applications are now open until the 30 September 2015.
